THE BIG MILL. Against the Referee. It was 10 o'clock when the event of the evening was announced. The crowd cheered and the cheers became a roar when the gladiators appeared. Fitz showed up fresh and received an ovation. Sharkey appeared two minutes after Fitzsimmons, and his welcome was equally as warm. Fitz chatted with friends at the ring side as if a hard fight were not on his hands. When Sharkey entered the ring Bob walked across the ring and shook hands cordially with the salior and his seconds. Both men were enveloped in long black robes, which they threw off before, putting on the gloves. It was then the disparity in the build of the two men was plainly seen. Fitz, lean, long sinewy, looked like a panther, while Sharkey, stocky and sturdy, with his imase muscular development, resembled a grizzly bear. Sharkey wore a green sash red, white and blue trimmings. His right hand was bandaged. Fitz was introduced as champion of the world, which evoked a howl of approval.

There was a little delay before Referee Earp appeared. Announcer Jordan said that owing to rumors of crookedness Marmen to Sharkey's backers this morning, but all were rejected. He said a San Francisco sporting man had come to him to-day and said a referee had intended to give a decision against his man. This statement was received with hisses and jeers. Earp made a speech uenying Julian's statement, saying he was square. Then Dan Lynch, Sharkey's backer, said Sharkey had lived up to every article in the agreement and was ready to fight with the referee selected by the National Club as per agreement, the men's backers having failed to agree on a referee prior to 12 o'clock to-day. During nents Sharkey and Fitz sat unconernedly in their corners, apparently ob-

Announcer Jordan said that Julian was ready to take any referee in the house except Earp. Then there was some more consultation, while the crowd howled while the crowd howled "Earp." Julian's charge against Earp was a surprise, as the Arizona man has always enjoyed a reputation as a "square sport." Fitz said he had given up his referee in all his fights and would give in to this. Then he stripped off his black role and added that he would insist that Sharrey take the bandages off his hand, as he had none or Sharkey continued to tie his gloves paid no attention to Fitzsimmons's de mand. But the referee walked over and examined the bandages complained of and Sharkey then removed the objectionable The men shook hands at 10:39

Jenkins-who have invaded the quiet county of Rush for the purpose of enlisting converts to the faith of Brigham Young. Jones and Jenkins have been here about three weeks. Not much attention was haid them at first, as their peculiar mission was not known. They were given to understand that their presence in that locality was not further desired, but this did not discourage these Latter-day Saints, as they continued their meetings at another point. Thus they have been dodging around over the county until the farmers who fought them have become thoroughly exasperated and may do bodily harm to the elders if they tarry longer in the county. Troiting Board of Review.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.-There were no absentees to-day from the meeting of the board of review of the National Trotting the slow classes in Dover, N. H., in September, 1894, was resumed. The present investigation of a record of 2:1914 was found, it is said, to have been an old racer, at one time known as George G. John Fitzgerald, of Boston, who said he bought Charley P. from Clarence S. Clark, of Boston, not knowing that the horse was not what he was represented to be. As soon as he discovered that the horse had a record as George G., he offered to surrender his winnings. John Ramsey, trainer for Fitzgerald, gave testimony tending to show that the latter had bought and raced Charley P. in good faith, and that he (Ramsey) was ignorant of the fact that the horse had a record. Counsel for Fitzgerald asked that the board rescind its action in expelling Fitzgerald and Ramsey from the tracks governed by the association, and that Clark, the previous owner, and Wolcott, formerly the trainer of George G., be

A number of cases of minor importance were disposed of, and then the Joe Patchen-John R. Gentry race of 1895, at Belmont Park, Philadelphia, as the result of which driver Jack Curry was fined $500 for pulling Joe Patchen, was called. Curry's basis of appeal for remission of the fine was that it was understood that the first heat was to be run on its merits, and that the winner of this heat should win the race. The witnesses were M. Strickland, Jacob Justice, Cyrus Lukens, Thomas Grady and Frank Walker. The race, it was claimed, was supposed to be run on its merits, the best horse to win. Curry pulled his horse in the econd and third heast, and the judges believed that the race was not being properly run. They therefore withdrew Curry and put a driver named Dickerson in his place. Inder Dickerson's guidance Joe Patchen won the subsequent heats. Curry was then fined $500. He paid the fine and appealed for its remission. The testimony of the witnesses mentioned related to the details of the race and the actions of the horse. Relating to the charge that some of the judges had money staked on the race, Lukens said that this was absolutely false, The only ground, he said, for the assertion was that Wm. H. Cuff, a well-known turfman, entered the judges' stand during the race, and, flourishing $125 in his uplifted hand, declared it was impossible for Gentry

While his father at present knows nothing of his whereabouts he is of the opinion that the young man has gone to South America to accept a position with the government as civil engineer, offered him some time ago. Young Flickinger has had a desire for some time past to study for the stage, but has been prevented from doing so by the objections of his family, and it is now thought he has accepted this government position so as to earn the funds necessary to carry him trough a dramatic school. No ill feeling exists between father and son and Mr. Flickinger expects to hear from him as soon as he reaches his destination.

Sickness makes a man's

hands useless. General and nervous debility holds him down just as surely as a great weight. He feels that he is down, but he hasn't strength or energy enough to get up again. His whole body seems tired out. His head is heavy. All effort is distasteful. He is as tired in the morning as he was when he went to bed. The sleep he gets is heavy, dreamful, and unrefreshing. His body is full of turgid, healthless, impure blood. He is subject to headaches and dizziness and palpitation of the heart at the least exertion. He is on the direct road to serious sickness. Few men appreciate how serious is their case when they say: "Oh, there is nothing the matter with me. My blood is a little out of order;

Pure blood is essential to life. The more impure it becomes, the stronger hold disease has on the system. If, instead of containing health-giving, life-giving properties, the blood is full of disease-breeding impurities, how is the daily waste of the tissues to be replaced? It is perfectly natural that the man will lose vitality and nerve force-that he will lose flesh and vigor. He will be useless to himself and to everyone else.

Impure blood comes from perfectly reasonable causes, and if the proper measures are taken, it is easy to purify it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the greatest blood-purifier that was ever known. It is more than this. It is a cleanser and invigorator for the whole system. It strengthens the digestion, works directly on the liver, restoring it to healthy, normal action. It soothes and strengthens the nerves, makes assimilation easy and nutrition perfect. It drives all impurity out of the blood, and substitutes just the material needed to bring the whole body back to the highest state of life.

When constipation is one of the symptoms of debility, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Bellets should be used to clear the system of effete matter, and permit the "Discovery" to do its best work. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. These two med cines may be had at any good drug store, and full particulars concerning them will be sent, on request, by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 668
